Rock Frenzy

Mrs. JoAnne Foster

Mrs. Foster (Health, Dr. Ed., Phys. Ed.) has been in education for 35 years, and at Bethany for 28. She received various degrees at Eastern Illinois University. Her favorite class was girls' P.E. when it was not co-ed. Her fondest memory was in 1979-80 when the Mustangs, Fillies, Yearlings, and Music Dept. were all number one and people knew about the kids, and respected us.

Mrs. Marilyn Jones

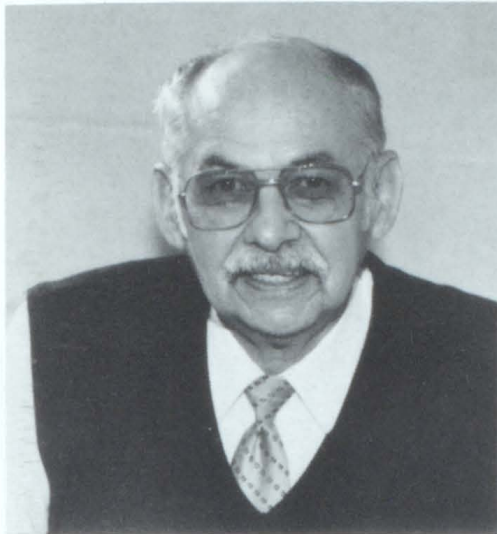

Mrs. Jones (Mathematics) has been teaching for 26 years, all of which have been at Bethany. She received her degrees at Millikin and Eastern Illinois University. Her favorite subject was Trigonometry. When asked what she will miss the most, she said, "The kids." Her fondest memory was helping Chris Davis at home with his math.

Mr. Francis "Buzz" Overlot

Mr. Overlot (Industrial Arts) has taught 34 years and enjoyed them all at Bethany. He received his degree at Eastern Illinois University. When asked what he will miss the most, he replied, "I'll definitely miss the teachers and students I have been associated with over the years. His fondest memory was in 1975-76 when the basketball team had a 52-3 win-loss record.

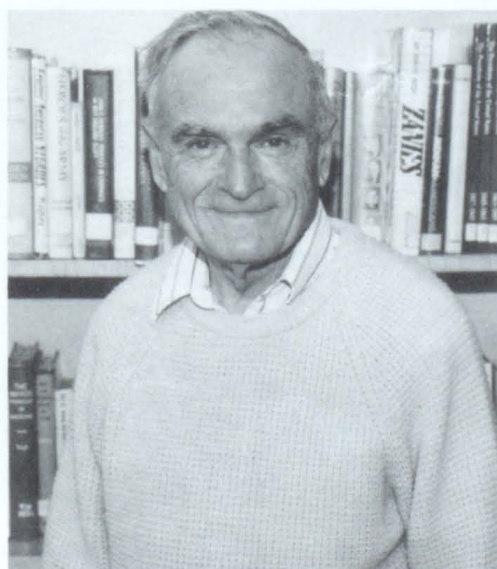

Mr. Jack Reinhart

Mr. Reinhart (Guidance Counselor) has been in education for 16 years and at Bethany for 14 of them. He received his degrees at Penn State and Eastern Illinois University. We asked him what he would miss the most, and he had this to say, "I will miss working with the students." This was also his sentiments about what his fondest memory was.

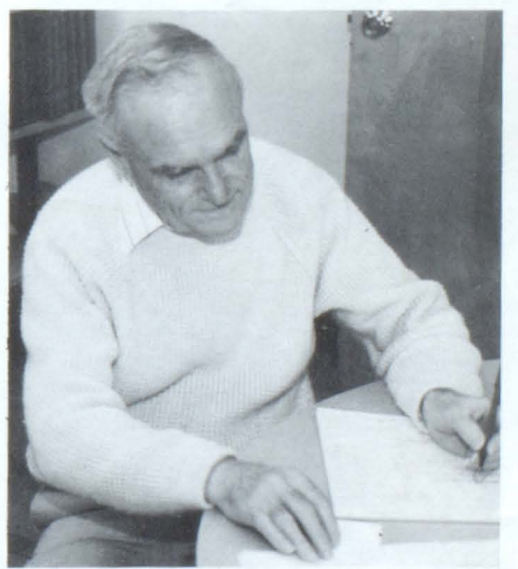

Mrs. Betsy Shimp

Mrs. Shimp (Business) has been in education for 36 years and at Bethany 33. She received her degree at Eastern Illinois University. Her favorite subject was Accounting. When asked what she will miss the most, she said, "Seeing the students mature (at least most of them)." Her fondest memory was Office Practice during the 1970's and '80.'s.

Mr. Sam Syfert

Mr. Syfert (Librarian) has been in education for 35 years and at Bethany for 33 of them. He received his degrees at Eastern Illinois and California Christian University. His favorite class was 4th grade Library in the afternoon. When asked what he will miss the most, he said, "Lunch hour at the teacher's table." His fondest memory was his first play directed at Bethany.

Classes Begin

Bethany enjoys higher enrollment, but school's future is still in doubt.

Excited about registering for her freshman year, Keely Henderson shares a joke with her mom. Registration was held for two days and was split from A-M and N-Z. With a new superintendent, the grade school held registration at the high school.

Amber Miller and Shaunna Larson go to their locker to prepare for the upcoming school year. The first day of school is a time for adjustment for many students who are just entering the jr. high level.

Jenifer Disney and Jaqueline Clark awaits the ring of the bell signaling the start of a new school day.

Lowering windows, Eric Stollard and James Miller attempt to cool off the bus before the trip home.

Preparing for the first trial run, Matt Roney and Dan Rice put finishing touches on their physics project. The object is for an egg to travel 11 m in 30 sec. without crashing into a wall.

Chet Phillips shows off Aaron McReynold's unique, one of a kind cast, signed by all of his friends.

Jason Bennett and Mike Schwartz wait to board the bus after attending a "Code Blue" assembly at Sullivan High School.

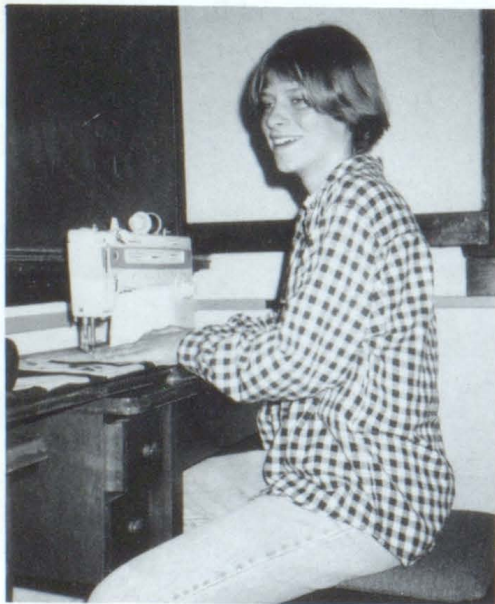

Seniors Angie Peck, Lisa Yarnell, Amy White, and Shannon Wilderman share a group hug after lunch. The first days of school brought friends, sharing summer memories, back together.

Adam Hickenbottom shows his "funny" side on the school bus on the way home from his first day as a seventh grader.

Cory Collins figures out the mysteries of his combination in order to get his books for class.

Misty Roberts adds the finishing touches to her locker bag that she made in eight grade Home-Ec.

Seventh grade math students live it up and party at Christmas time.

The seventh grade boys take a break from math to enjoy a computer game.

Sarah Osman, Camille Moody, and April Russell enthusiastically cheer for the junior high basketball teams. The crowds for both jr. high and high school games were large in numbers and enthusiasm.

The jr. high basketball crowd stretches and socializes during half-time.

Jon Parsons stops for a cold pop on his way to lunch after a long hard P.E. class. The machine was only open to students during certain times of the day.

Grant Harris, percussionist, prepares for another band session.

SCHOOL AFFAIRS

Making The Grade

Students explore all avenues of learning.

Although students may be involved in many other activities while they are at school, academics is the real reason for being here. It may not be the most exciting part of their day, but it is definitely the most important. Students practice many skills during the day, such as proving theorems or writing a composition. Not everything taught at school comes from a book.

One can also learn crafts like baking cookies or building furniture. Either way, academics plays a major role in the students' lives.

HEATH!

Junior Jennifer Disney demonstrates how to work out a problem in Trigonometry class.

Mrs. Blackford's Spanish three class tries to keep cool and still concentrate on the new assignment being explained. Lots of fans and open windows helped to make the month of August a little more bearable. School was dismissed early due to heat for the first week.

Eighth grader Justin Colclasure waits patiently for band practice to begin.

FHA members Laura Woermann and Trisha McManmie pass out blow pops for Red Ribbon Week. During this week members wore red ribbons, gave the teachers flowers, handed out candy, and served cake during lunch hour.

Sophomore Heather McLaughlin goes to her locker to get some homework for studyhall. By second semester students were required to sign in and out of class due to the vandalizing of restrooms.

Sophomore John Harshman works on his Biology II speech. All students in this class were required to write a paper on a topic related to the environment.

While waiting for a chance to talk to Mr. Reinhart about their schedules, Haley Rowe, Leslie Patient, and Charity McManmie relax. Helping students with their schedules is just one of the helpful things Mr. Reinhart does.

Seniors Josh McBride, Jared Armer, Randy Baker, and Zach Bryan work on their Government notes for class. This is a required class for all seniors.

Mr. Patient and Mrs. Karcher teach country line dancing to their P.E. classes.

Senior Amanda Kaiser works on the lunch account in the office. In addition to her responsibilities at school, Amanda works with the handicapped residents of the Moultrie County Beacon.

Freshmen Mike Schwartz, Mike Smith, Erik Stollard, and Erik Edwards work on an assignment in computer class. By the end of the year, students will be able to program a computer.

Not many boys, including senior Bob Disney, took Mr. Patient's torture box seriously. They soon learned differently. Pushups were just one of the many punishments that the boys could draw from the box.

Junior Brandi Moody buys a P.E. uniform from eighth graders Jesse Brumleve, Camille Moody, Letitia Martin, Sarah Claytor, and Sarah Osman who gave up a few hours from their last days of summer vacation. Also soliciting the parents money, the Reverie staff sold '93-'94 yearbooks during registration.

Seventh graders Dustin Bone, Brigham Hagerman, and Shaunna Larson work on their art projects. Some of these projects were proudly displayed at the Art Fair held during parent-teacher conferences.

Looking less than enthusiastic, junior Jamie Rutherford fills out her American History worksheet. Sitting in the back were Bliss Schwartz and Jon Moody.

Senior Shannon Phillips gives into the urge to nap during World History.

Freshman Dena Craig draws an amoeba after looking at it under the microscope. Besides looking at microscopic organisms, students also dissect frogs, mussels, starfish and sharks.

The American History class shows their holiday spirit during their Christmas party. Mrs. Banning was just one of the many teachers who spread a little cheer by allowing parties during class.

Sophomores Leigh Ann Snyder, Mike Muzzy, Beth Stewart, Jodi Russell, and Amanda Haile work on their "face lab." Students, who were put in groups of two, flipped coins to find out how "their child" would look. They then had to draw a picture of their progeny, give it a name, and display it in the hall outside the science rooms.

Mr. Banning tells a little of the history behind his gear during "Civil War Day". This day has become part of the school year since its start in 1988.

Cooks — Emmalou Funk and Jane Russell. This is Emmalou's sixteenth year cooking here but only her first year as head cook. Jane has been a part-time cook for three years. This is her first year as a full time cook.

Jane Russell fixes chef salads for the high-schoolers. Students were offered a choice of hot lunches, ala carte, or chef salads.

Support Staff

This year's kitchen helpers were Jacob Rice, Mike Schwartz, Daniel Rice, Tim Trussell, and Ben Morris. When one of the high schoolers was absent, Cole Russell was always willing to fill in.

Row 6: Justin Lutz, Bob Disney, Scott Seeley, Wes Plummer, Jason Von Loon, Erik Stollard, Tony Reynolds, Nathan Hauck, Ryan Bagley.

Freshman Erik Edwards and sixth grader J.C. Fitzgerald took time out of their competitions to relax and eat lunch. Competitions are based on three categories chosen by the Conservation Department.

Eighth graders Anthony Gist and Anitra Rowe take a break from the day's competition to eat lunch. The Eco-Team studies on their own time by using booklets and area resources such as the Eastern Illinois University Lab. On the day of competition, a series of tests are given where identification of both living and preserved specimens is required.

Josten's Yearbook Camp was held in Bloomington, Illinois on August 2, 3, 4, and 5. Charity McManmie, Brandi Kesterson, and Daniel Rice, along with sponsor Mrs. Horsman, all attended. At camp instructors from across the Midwest taught theme development, layout and cover design. These areas were covered so that when we came home, we would already have our theme developed and cover designed. We had class during the day and free time to work on assigned lessons at night. Prizes were awarded at the end in these categories.

The Publications class celebrated with punch and cake after setting a new record selling advertising. The top salesperson was freshman Katie Phillips.

National Honor Society

Mr. Syfert has the National Honor Society members repeat the Honor Society oath. They vow to meet the requirements to be a part of the N.H.S.

Jr. High National Honor Society: Natalie Cohan, Melissa Ashley, Beth Parsons, Sarah Osman, Mr. Syfert. To be a part of the National Honor Society students must be nominated by a teacher who feels that the student meets the requirements.

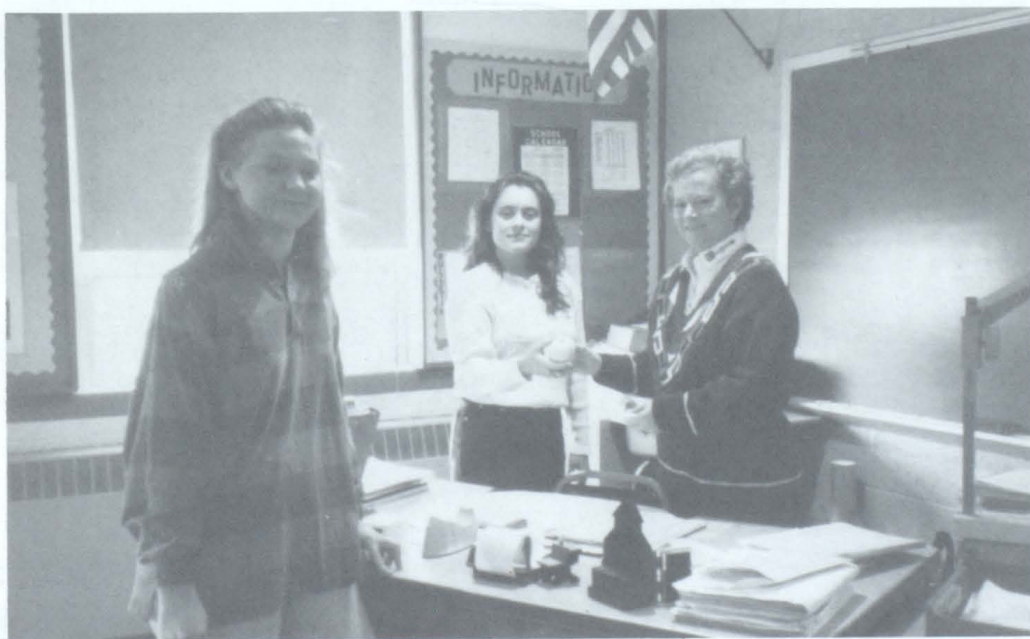

Eighth grader Sarah Osman gets a friendly "tap" on the shoulder from Senior Amanda Kaiser.

March To Victory

Drum Majors Teri Zimmer and Angie Duncan lead the Marching Mustangs through a victorious season. This was Teri's second year and Angie's third year as drum majors.

Flag Corps Kneeling: Amanda Kaiser and Nicci Fite. Standing L-R: Jodi Armer, Jamie Banning, Christine Claytor, Jodi Russell, and Haley Rowe. The captains this year were Christine Claytor and Nicci Fite. The flag corps had a successful season with firsts at two out of three competitions.

At the EIU competition the Drum Majors took first, Percussion — second, Woodwinds — third, and the band took fifth over all. The Mahomet-Seymour competition was a big success with the Marching Mustangs winning everything. Drum Majors received fourth and the entire band fifth at the big U of I contest. With an improved showing at Arthur, the band captured third place and the Drum Majors second.

Seniors Row 1: Andi Smith. Row 2: Jamie Scott, Lindsay Patrick. Row 3: Matt Roney, Amanda Kaiser, Angie Duncan, and Nicci Fite. Row 4: Katie Sheeley and Christine Claytor. Trumpet solos were played by Jamie Scott (from "Peter Gunn") and Matt Roney (from "For Your Eyes Only")

"The band showed great improvement this year."

Jodi Armer

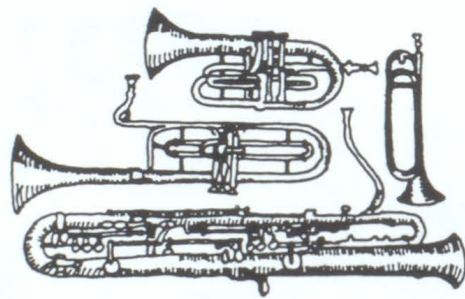

"The Marching Mustangs had many ups and downs, but we had a great year."

Row 4: Justin Lutz, Lisa Yarnell, Shannon Wilderman, Sharon O'Brien, Stacey Wise, Angie Peck, Jodi Armer, Beth Stewart, Rob Neathery.

"We sponsored several activities that dealt with drugs and alcohol. For instance, we sponsored the Drug and Alcohol Survey for the grades 7-12 and the Theater Prevention group (B-Team). We were also sponsors of the Bethany School District in M.A.Y.A.C. (Moultrie County Area Youth Activities Council.) We sponsored the Grim Reaper presentation during Prom week. We wanted to show the increased awareness of Teenage Deaths related to Alcohol and Teenage Drinking."

Mr. Patient, Adviser

"People who drink and drive are not my friends. If my friends would drink and drive, that would put me in an awkward position. I value my life and others as well."

Freshman Raven Freeland

"I don't like the fact that people's lives are taken each year by irresponsible drivers. Drunk drivers are not responsible when they drive."

Senior Luke Bland

"I thought that the Grim Reaper was a good idea. It gave people an idea of how detrimental drinking and driving could be."

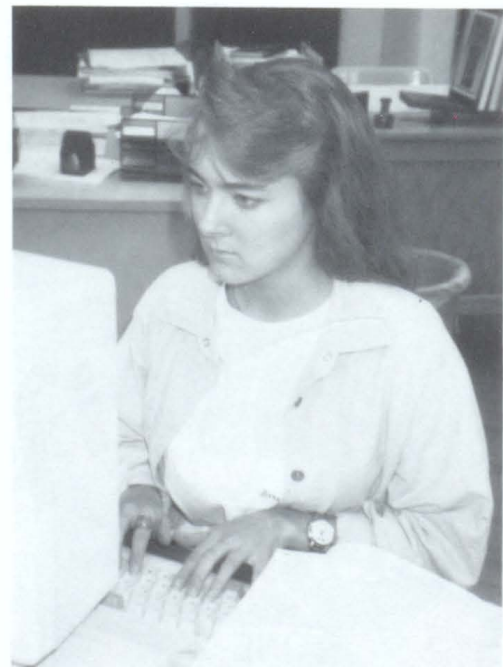

Senior Amanda Kaiser

The "Junk Art" display was one of the many Science Club sponsored activities going on during Earth Week. Other happenings were Junk Art, Fashion Day, planting a tree, decoration competition, and a "Save the Planet" skit performed by Derek Pikop, Larry Jennings, and Nathan Hauck. There was also trash collecting day when all the students walked around town and collected debris.

Laura Woermann hurries to finish her daily computer assignment before the bell. "Computers was my most difficult class," claimed Laura.

Brandi Moody waits for the Homecoming chili supper to begin. Student Council members served chili before the Homecoming basketball game.

Freshman Amanda Lynch, Kelsie Buker, and Keely Henderson work with Mrs. Banning on their Geography reports. Students were split up into groups of three and assigned a country on which to do a report.

Sophomore Travis Turner helps juniors Kristen Wicker and Phil Ozier make (and taste) the popcorn for the concession stand. The stand was one of the juniors' money makers; the other one was magazine sales. The money that the juniors earned went towards their prom and senior class trip.

Rebekah Steimel celebrates her graduation from the jr. high D.A.R.E. program. This was the first year the program was in the jr. high.

Just An Education?

Students keep busy outside of class during the year.

Bethany High School, it's not just a place to learn but to also have fun. The excitement started when our football team made it to the second round of the play offs. Dances like Homecoming, Sadie Hawkins, and Prom definitely added to our year. Trips such as the Senior, Freshman, and Spanish trips also played a major role. All this, with some scattered assemblies, various parties, and graduation day, made the year more enjoyable. With activities like these, we had the chance to experience so much more than just an education.

Junior Serina Pikop conquers a pinball game at the Bethany Video and Arcade. Serina commented, "I only go to the arcade to kill time."

Freshman Nathan Robbins and sophomores Tony Reynolds and Keith Bart watch as their opponent Chris Petro takes his turn at a game of Snooker at the arcade.

After a hard day of passing out the '93 yearbooks, Katie Phillips winds down by standing on her hands. A total of 165 yearbooks were purchased this year, an increase from last year.

Homecoming

Wearing PJ's on "Come As You Are Day," Brandy Caldwell, Sharon O'Brien, Rachel Wright, and Stacey Wise hand out cookies to all the classes.

"We were not able to do activities we have done in the past. We did not have a bonfire or have class floats. I did enjoy the Christmas theme of the Homecoming dance."

Angie Peck

"It was better because you had all day to get ready. The players were not all worn out, and this year we had a longer dance."

Shane Martin

"I like that it ended up being a fancier dance than the others have been in the past."

Trisha McManmie

Senior Bob Disney, flanked by freshmen Mike Schwartz and Derek Pickop, shows off his sexy attire for the "Nerd Day" contest. And the winners are . . . Bob and Derek were two of the winners. "Does anyone have any cheese?"

Derek Pikop and Jason Van Loon are dressed to impress on "Black and Gold Day." Both Derek and Jason were winners. Checkers anyone?

Jason Bennett grooves with his class on "Hippie Day". Flower Power and Peace to ya Man!

Making the hippy sign for "Make Love Not War" and holding a World Peace sign are Betsy Rowe, April Russell, and Tereza Roney. Other junior high students backing them up in agreement are (clockwise from lower left): Dana Peck, Darla Gill, Ashley Newcome, Anitra Rowe, Brigham Hagerman, Jon Parsons, Misty Roberts, Sarah Claytor, and Paul Nelson. Betsy and Misty said, "Make love not war!" and "Peace to the world!"

On "Toga Day" Chris Clark gives his impression of Julius Caesar. Watch your back, Chris!

Queen Shannon Phillips and King Steve Chilton pose for photos after the coronation with Holly Shafer and Andrew Fultz, crown bearers.

While waiting to be judged, the freshmen wave to cheer on the Mustangs for Homecoming.

The Bethany crowd stands and cheers for the Mustangs Homecoming game. The band struck up the "Hey" song repeatedly to fire up the crowd.

Freshman Paige Clark finishes third place during a race to get a cherry out of whipped cream. The contest proved to be tasty although quite messy.

Bleacher Bums Deacon Patient, Andi Smith, Jamie Scott, Angie Duncan, and Aaron Osman show their spirit for boys' varsity basketball.

Sophomores Aaron Osman, Mike Muzzy, Scott Darnell, Danny Webner, Adam Yeager, and Adam Gurchiek enthusiastically build a pyramid during a noon hour game sponsored by the Student Council.

The damp, chilly weather didn't stop the varsity team from enjoying the Homecoming Parade.

'94 Styles

Dustin Hale, Randy Lancaster, Adam Rutherford, Joe Gaither, and J.C. Fultz all promote their fashion styles.

Sports clothing, such as Aaron Wehrle's Cub's shirt, is a popular style for guys and girls.

Seventh grader Shaunna Larson appears relaxed in the casual teenager's uniform of jeans, top and vest.

Jeremy Hill sports a not so common hair style seen around school.

Allison Patrick goes for the 70's style with a beaded choker and clogs.

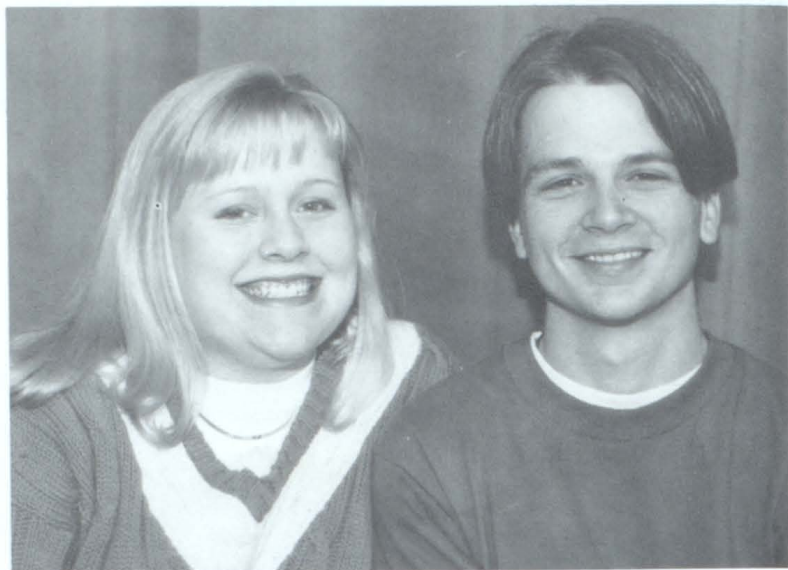

Shannon Pham and Bliss Schwartz wear their caps backwards following the latest trend.

Looking comfortable in her Burkenstocks is Amy White.

Paul Roney, Suzanne Chilton, Sandy Bland, Paula Clark, and Lucia Roney were all chaperones on the class trip. Mrs. Roney and Mrs. Clark "stand guard" in the hall.

After not quite getting stopped on her ski's before doing the splits, Charity McManmie looks a little worried in her present position.

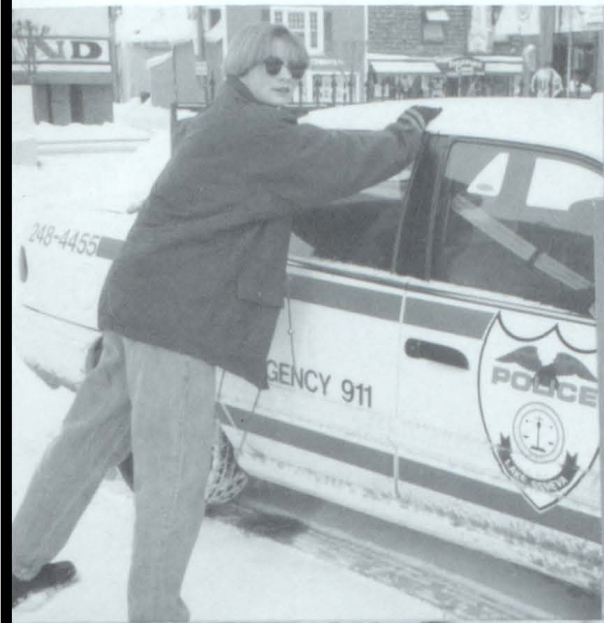

Before departing for home, many took one last group photo to remember their trip to Lake Geneva.

They've been caught! Bob Disney and Heath Yowell were "surprised" by a fellow roommate's camera. The students roomed together with four in each room.

Dane's fallen (while roller blading), and can't get up! Besides skiing, roller blading was a popular activity on the trip.

Prom

Kristen Wicker leads a line dance to the song "God Bless Texas" during Prom. Many enjoyed the country music dancing.

Prom Court, Front L-R: King Jason Brewer and Queen Jamie Scott Back: Nicci Fite, Dane Clark, Phil Dickens, Tami Yowell, Rachel Wright, Bob Disney, Amanda Kaiser, and Zach Bryan. Prom 1994, "A Whole New World", was presented May 14th by the junior class in the EIU Ballroom. After the king and queen were crowned, the D.J. service, Sound and Light Creations, kept the music going throughout the night. Post prom was held at Hezzy's at Sullivan. There prom goers could bowl, listen to karaoke, or watch hypnotist Andy Dallas. Thus the night ended.

Josh McBride laughs at date Amy White's choice of accessories for her formal gown. Is this going to be the new fad?

As the group snickers at his efforts, photographer Phil Dickens tries to adjust the group for their photo.

Former King and Queen Phillip Dickens and Tami Yowell give the crowns to the new King and Queen, Jason Brewer and Jamie Scott.

Sharon O'Brien and date Evan McCarther move out to the dance floor.

Brandy Caldwell and Matt Roney take a break from the activity going on around them.

Chris Petro and date decide to sit this one out.

Junior Laura Woermann signs up for a memory mate while Kristin Wicker and date wait in line.

'94 Graduation

Randy Baker, Jared Armer, and Cole Russell wait for the ceremony to begin.

B.E.A. President Denise Piatt awards the B.E.A. Scholarship to Shannon Wilderman during graduation ceremonies.

Stacey Wise and Shelly Reed march down the aisle as the concert band plays "Pomp and Circumstance".

The senior ensemble, Angie Duncan, Lindsay Patrick, Luke Bland, and Bob Disney, sings "I'll Be Seeing You" for their last time together. Angie, the class salutatorian, also gave the Class History and closing speeches.

Amy White is escorted down the aisle by fellow graduate Matt Roney. Matt's father, Paul Roney, came forward to award his son's diploma.

Valedictorian Jamie Scott gives the valedictory address before the presentation of diplomas by Allan Manhart, principal, and Norma Farris, School Board President. Jamie was also awarded the Bethany Athletic Booster Club Scholarship, along with Luke Bland and Andi Smith.

Dear Hannah

Dear Hannah,

Should you be nice to people who annoy you?

Yes, even though someone may annoy you, it may be because of circumstances you or your friends do not understand, such as an argument with their parents or just a bad home life all together. If they are not getting attention at home, they are probably looking for a substitute elsewhere.

Dear Hannah,

What is the true meaning of love?

Love is an affection based on admiration; however, many people believe it is found in different ways. The most common definition used by high school students is "The attraction based on sexual desire."

Dear Hannah,

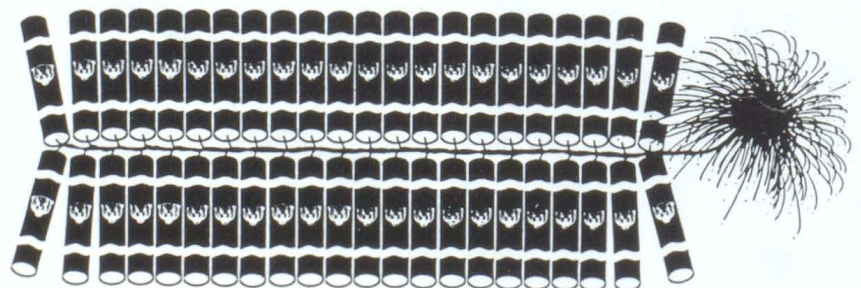

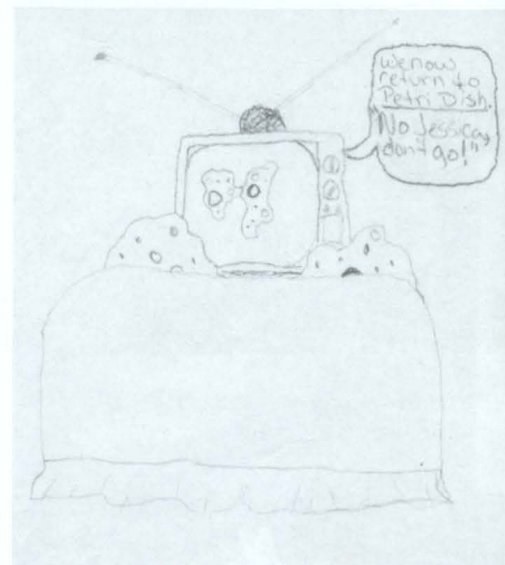

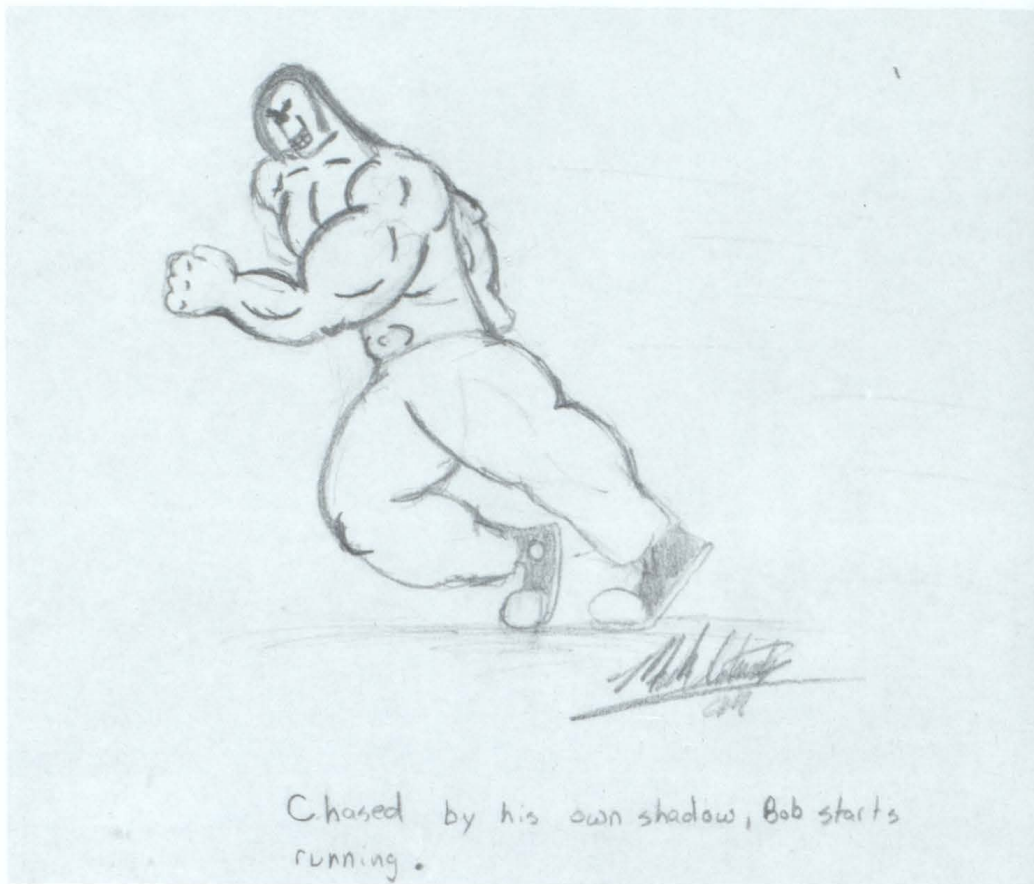

How do I handle leaving all my friends after graduation?

You should make it a point to keep in touch by writing or calling each other at least once a week.

Dear Hannah,

Why do guys think it's o.k. to mess around, but when girls do, it's a crime, and they break up with you?

Because we live in a male dominated society, and even though women are becoming more independent, there are still a lot of traditional ideas about who should be the dominate party in a relationship. Because of this, a man's "pride" suffers more when they are not thought of as "macho".

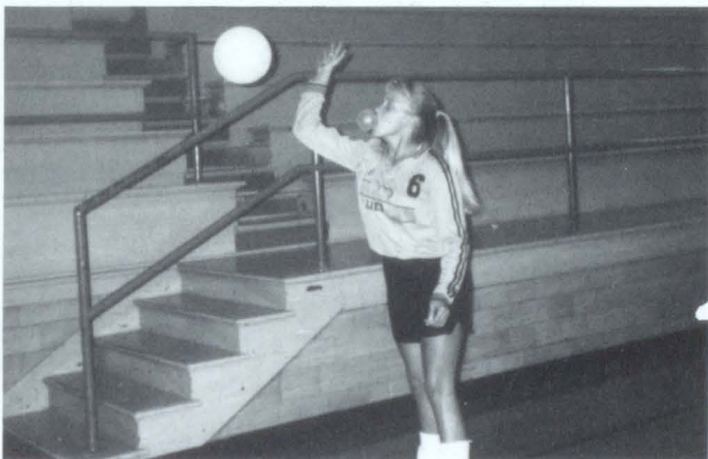

The average high school student undergoes a remarkable transformation after taking Biology I.

"Don't look at my bum, bum lookers, cheekey monkey!" The freshman class displays their version of Simon on Saturday Night Live.

Kelsie Buker practices volleyball after school. Ball — gum? Ball — gum? Ball — gum? Tough decision!

Chris Petro impersonates a normal American History student.

Jeremy Hill does his impression of Johnny Carson. "I did not know that; that's some weird wild stuff."

"By the time you get to what's left to be gotten, what's left to be gotten won't be worth getting, what ever it is you've got to get."

In other words, don't wait around; life will pass you by.

Senior Angie Williams

A County School Soon?

What does consolidation mean to Bethany?

School officials from Bethany and Sullivan met in December to discuss consolidation. If each community should decide in favor of consolidation, Bethany students would most likely be bused to the Sullivan High School. A Bethany survey showed support for consolidation.

The arguments for consolidation include the opportunity for more activities and course offerings, as well as improved athletic teams. Those against it bring up the issue of busing; others fear the effects on the community if it should lose its high school. Only time will tell if consolidation is in Bethany's future.

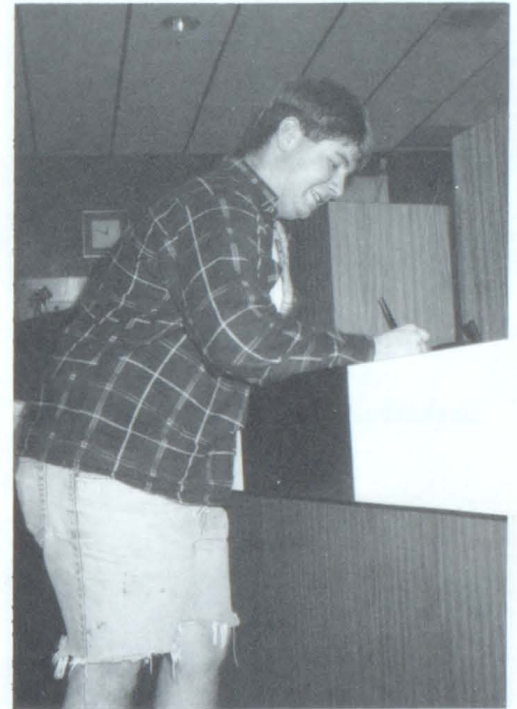

Katie Phillips and Sam Ozier show us how they "clash" on Nerd day. When asked about consolidation Katie commented, "I don't want it to happen."

Sophomore Steve Shain commented on consolidation, "I think it would . . . take the individuality from the students. That is what makes a good part of our school. Plus having to reorganize the school name, colors, teams, etc. The good part about it would be more classes, sports, and in general a better education."

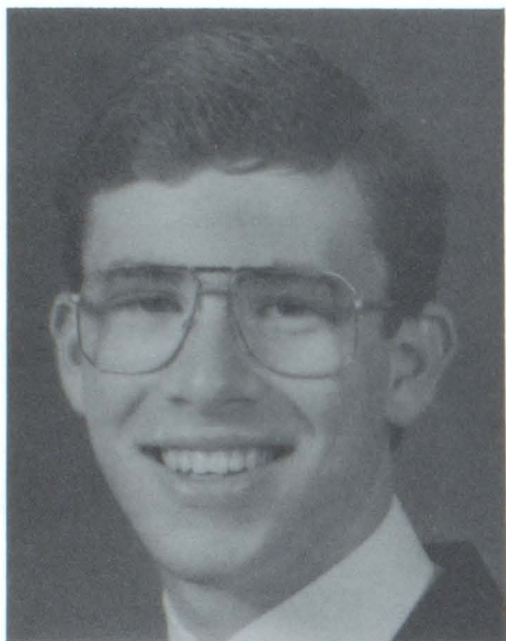

Junior Tracy Phelps enjoys the Civil War Re-enactment. Concerning consolidation she said, "I think that it's a good idea because it will give everyone a variety of classes. It will also give us more money to do extra things."

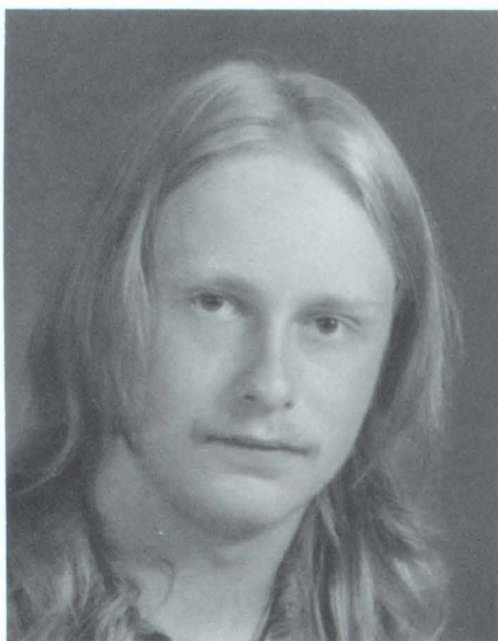

Chris Petro takes care of business at Scott State Bank. Chris had this to say about consolidation, "I think it is a good idea. It would help prepare us (the students) better for college. Also the sports teams would be a lot more outgoing."

Chris Mears displays his sculptures at the Bethany Art Fair. This was the first year for the fair. It was held on parent/teacher conference day.

That's My Child Down There

Please don't curse that child down there,
That's my kid, you see.
Only just a child, you know,
who means the world to me.
I did not raise my kid, dear fan,
For you to call foul names.
My child may not be a super-star,
But these are high school games.
So please don't knock those kids down there.
They do the best they can.
They've never tried to lose a game.
They're just kids and you're a fan.
The game belongs to them, you see,
You're really just a guest.
They do not need a fan that gripes.
They need the very best.
If you have nothing nice to say,
Please leave the kids alone to play.
And, if you've forgotten your manners,
Then please just stay at home.
So, please don't curse those kids down there.
Each one's a parent's child.
And win or lose or tie, you see,
To us, they're number one!!!

While concentrating on his freethrow, Clay Brush dribbles to get his rhythm. Clay came out strong at the end of the year to help the team win their last two games.

Jamie Scott clears the bar with ease as she practices high jumps before the meet starts. Jamie received the MVP award at the awards night for the season.

Bob Disney stays focused as he continues around the curve in the 3200 meter race. Bob, the only senior guy, also ran the 1600, 800, and 400 meter.

Lindsay Patrick pushes herself to stay in front during the 400 meter dash at a home meet against Central A&M. Lindsay also ran the 100 meter dash and did long jump.

Worn out after a long meet, Jamie Scott, Katie Phillips, and Lindsay Patrick take a rest on a nearby fence.

Keith Bart shows good form as he clears the hurdle. Keith also ran the 400 meter dash and did high jump.

Katie Phillips concentrates on her practice jumps as she gets ready to start her event. Katie's other events were 100 and 300 hurdles, and sometimes the 100 and 200 meter dash.

Getting up into the air, Justin Lutz shows decent form at the Redskin relays. At the frosh-soph meet, Justin had set two new records for the farthest jump in the long jump and triple jump.

Jr. High Boys' Track

Front Row L-R: J.C. Fitzgerald, Justin Colclasure, Phillip Wright, Kevin Darnell, Larry Lutane, Jacob Schwartz, Lindsey Grebien, Dustin Haile. Row 2: Ted Abbott, Joe Kellogg, Nick Russell, Grant Harris, Brandon Patrick, Ryan McCabe, Mark Roberts, Kaleb Turner. Row 3: Jonathan Parsons, Josh Cuttill, Keith Fair, Jon Book, Josh Fox, Joe Gaither, Coach Parsons.

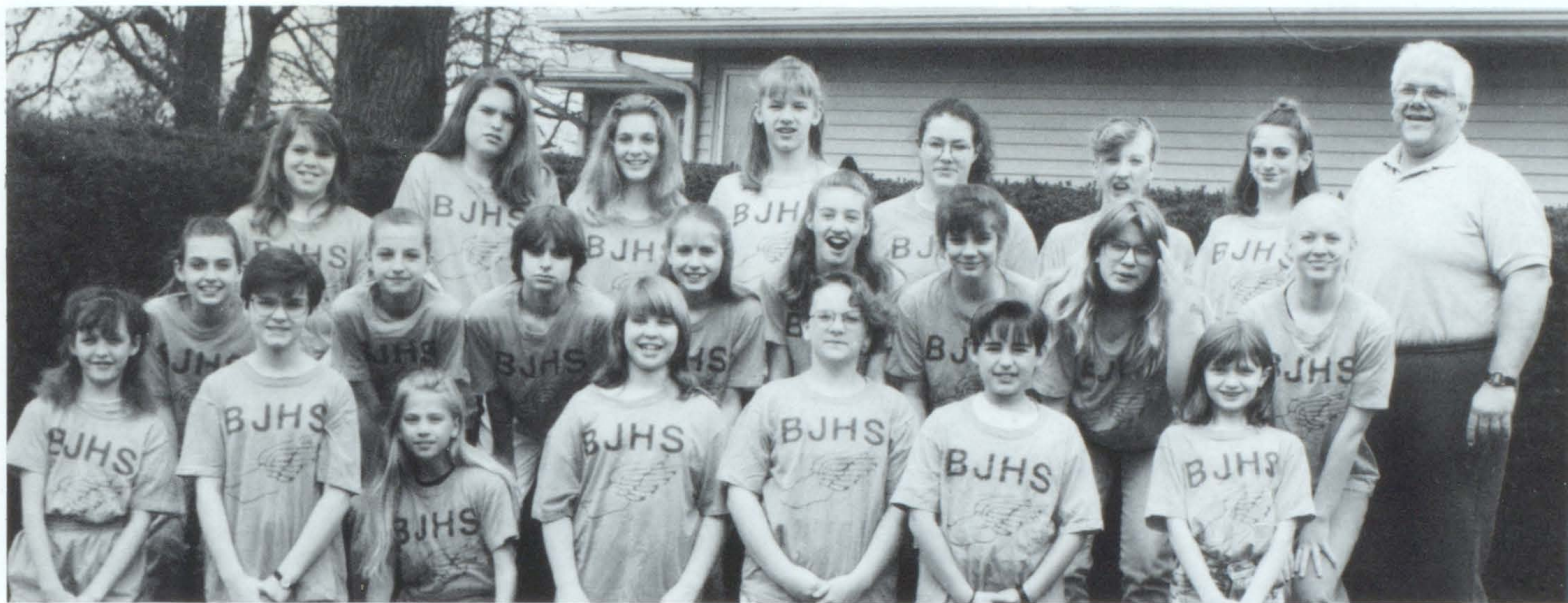

Keith Fair prepares his run for the high jump. Keith's other events were discus, 100, and 4x100 meter relay with Zack Gurchiek, Josh Cuttill, and Jonathan Parsons.

Josh Cuttill sprints the last leg of the 4x100 meter relay during an away meet. Josh also ran the 200 meter dash, threw shot putt and ran hurdles. Josh took 9th in the hurdles at the State Track Meet this year.

Jr. High Girls' Track

Keeping stride, Letitia Martin continues her mile race. Letitia also ran the 4 x 200 mile with April Russell, Darla Gill, and Rebekah Steimel. Her other events were the 800 meter run and discus.

Jessie Brumleve prepares to throw an 8.8 pound shot putt at an away track meet. Jessie also threw discus this year, when she had a personal best throw of over 66 feet.

Natalie Cohan gets ready to start the 4 x 100 relay with her other teammates Julie White, Misty Roberts, and Anitra Rowe. Natalie also ran the 400 and 200 meter dashes.

Kim Sheeley looks for a place to bump the ball over the net while the opposing team watches from the bench. Kim proved to be an excellent team leader.

Dana Peck and Rebekah Brumleve get into position before the serve. Although both 7th and 8th grade teams had losing records, they both had a good memory to take with them. The 7th grade won Consolation Champs in the C.M.S. Tournament, which earned them their first trophy ever for the Junior High. The 8th grade played very well in the Warrensburg Tournament. Although the 8th grade had twenty-one players, most of them saw playing time. Now that is what you call teamwork.

Golf

Clay Brush and Luke Bland were our representatives on the Sullivan Golf team.

Clay Brush shows his sweet swing on par 4 hole.

Jamie Banning is our only student competing in horse shows. She has been showing since she was three years old, when she was entered in leadline classes. Jamie has progressed to a variety of performance and speed events as well as training young horses in her spare time.

H.S. Cheerleaders

"Over all, the year was a good year, but it could have been better if there had been more cooperation from the squad.

Teri Zimmer

"We always tried to keep everyone's spirits high no matter how the game was going."

Sharon O'Brien

Kelsie Buker

Raven Freeland

Senior Christine Claytor and freshman Raven Freeland prepare for their part in the Pon-Pom routine at a boys' basketball game.

Raven Freeland, Teri Zimmer and Christine Claytor perform a double base shoulder stand to finish a cheer before a home game.

Teri Zimmer pauses to see who is starting the next cheer. The cheerleaders had different girls leading each new cheer throughout the season.

Brandy Caldwell, Christine Claytor, Amber Crowe, and Rachel Wright strut their stuff in front of a home crowd. They did several different routines during half-time at home games.

Christine Claytor, Brandy Caldwell, Raven Freeland, and the other cheerleaders show the home crowd a dance routine. They used the '93 mix music' that they got from cheerleading camp.

JH Cheerleaders

Clockwise from top: Carly Dodd, Tanya Skidmore, Sarah Claytor, Betsy Rowe, Darla Gill, Anitra Rowe.

"After all our hard practices and going over our cheers, we helped our team have a great season."

Sarah Claytor
Anitra Rowe
Betsy Rowe

"We loved cheering for our team."

Darla Gill
Carly Dodd

Ending a cheer at a home game, Carly Dodd executes the lift with the help of Betsy Rowe, Sarah Claytor, and Anitra Rowe.

Betsy Rowe yells enthusiastically for the basketball team. The girls had something to shout about since the Yearlings had an excellent season.

Anitra Rowe anxiously waits for the outcome of a freethrow.

Holding the pose at the end of a cheer is Carly Dodd.

At the end of a cheer, Anitra Rowe, Tanya Skidmore, Sarah Claytor, Carly Dodd, Betsy Rowe, and Darla Gill form a human pyramid.

Filly Gold

Letterman's Club

Playing on the Sullivan-Bethany football team, Shane Martin rushes up the middle, looking to block an opponent.

Brandi Moody passes the ball inbounds before the ref makes a five second call. Brandi received the coach's Hustle Award.

Senior Luke Bland charges through the hoop in front of a home crowd. Luke advanced to the second round of the regionals 3 pt. contest.

While playing the Shelbyville Rams at home, senior Jamie Scott pulls up for a short jump shot coming off a fast break.

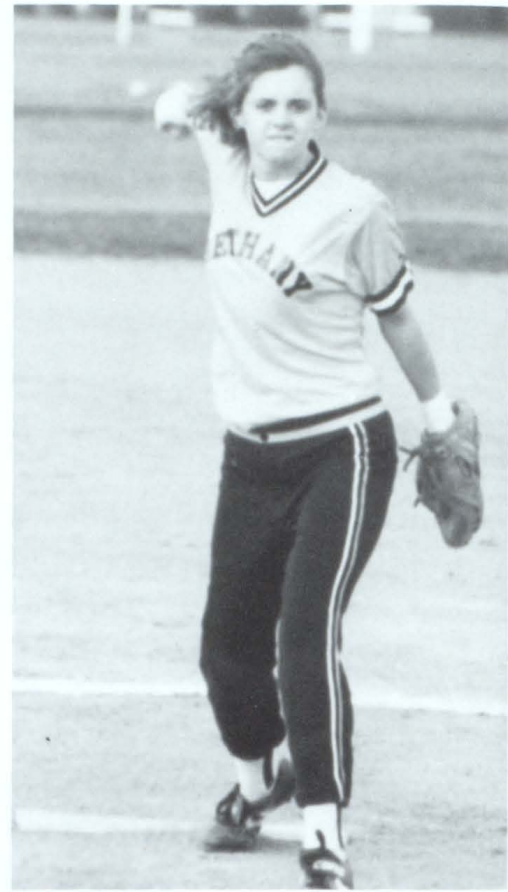

Playing great defence, Luke Bland, Adam Gurchiek, and Kevin Bowser trap a Ramsey player while Phil Ozier guards his man one on one.

More Action

Deacon Patient keeps stats while Adam Yeager, Shannon Pham, Scott Seeley, and Clay Brush watch the game.

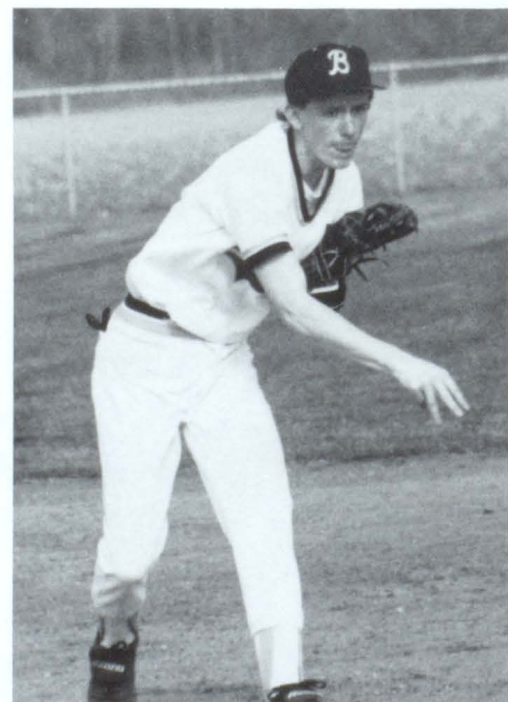

Shelly Reed shows her determination while pitching. Shelly also played third base and outfield.

Letitia Martin concentrates on the basket during her free throw.

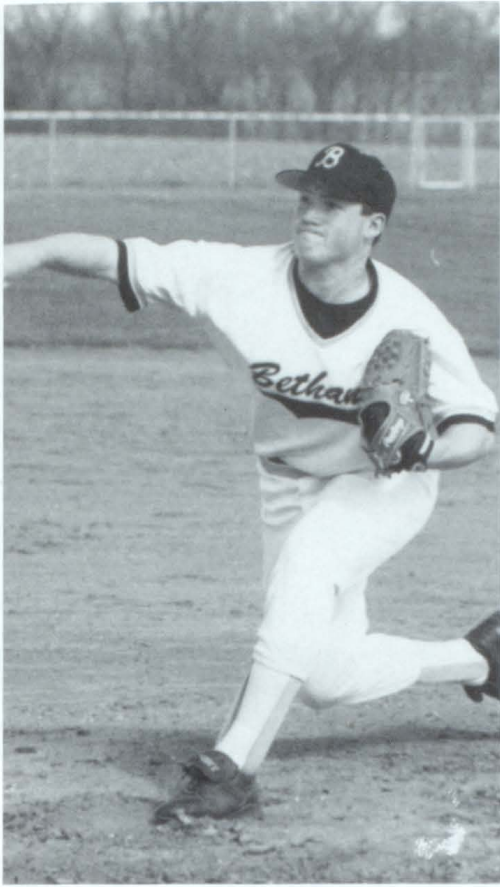

Jamie Scott plunges into the sand in the long jump. Jamie also participated in the 100 meter dash, 200 meter dash and high jump.

Phillip Ozier watches his throw to first. He played left field and occasionally short stop.

Kevin Bowser throws a strike towards the plate. Kevin was awarded the Best Pitcher Award for the season.

8th graders Jon Book, Keith Fair, Rich McCabe, Justin Colclasure, Grant Harris, and Zach Gurchiek watch the final seconds of the 7th grade game before going out to play their own game.

Wendy Munch stays low to field the ball.

Justin Lutz receives the baton from Bob Disney on a picture perfect hand-off. Justin ran in the 100 and 200 meter dash, long jump, and triple jump.

Wes Plummer eyes the runner while throwing the ball to second base. Wes received Best Offensive Player at the Spring Awards Banquet.

Amanda,

One word
makes the difference.

It brightens the room
when you walk into it, and lightens the load when you have a problem that's bigger than you are. It describes that human tendency to help a neighbor or a stranger. It makes life a lot easier in the countryside, and it continues to work – creating jobs, providing drinkable water, helping teachers in their classrooms and entertaining families in their homes. It's a proven success story. One word makes a difference.

Cooperation.

Classes End

As the school year comes to a close, BHS's future still in doubt.

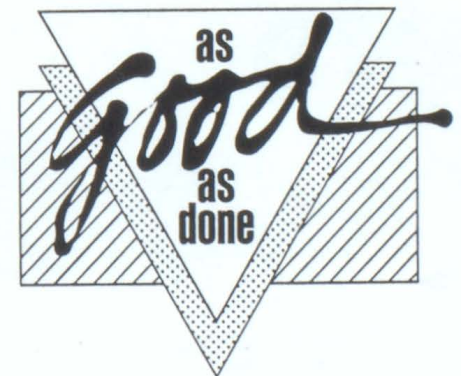

Rebekah Steimel serves dinner at the Valentines' Day dinner. This was the first year for the dinner which was put on by the Music Boosters.

Rick Seeley tries to block out all distractions and keep reading in Mrs. Horsman's English I class.

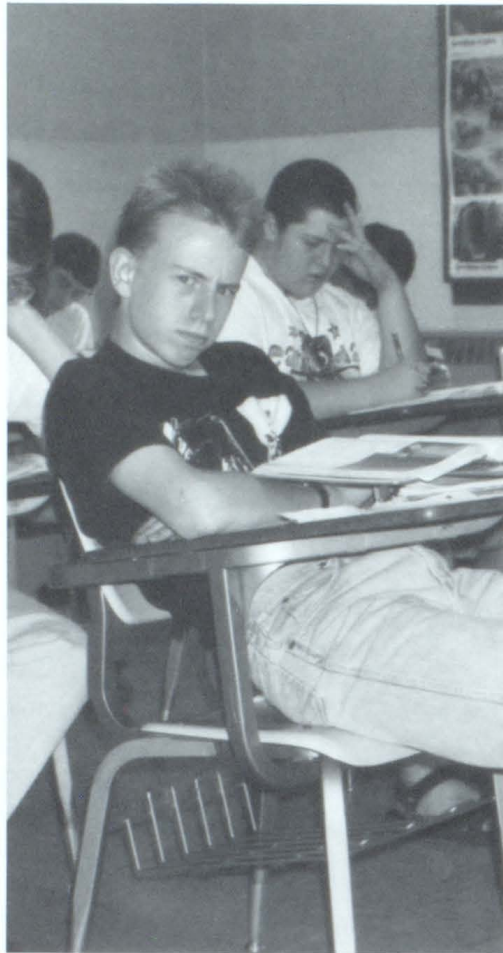

The sign (pictured above) was posted in the gym as a salute to all the teachers. It was especially appreciated by our six retiring teachers, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Shimp, Mr. Overlot, Mr. Syfert, and Mr. Reinhart.

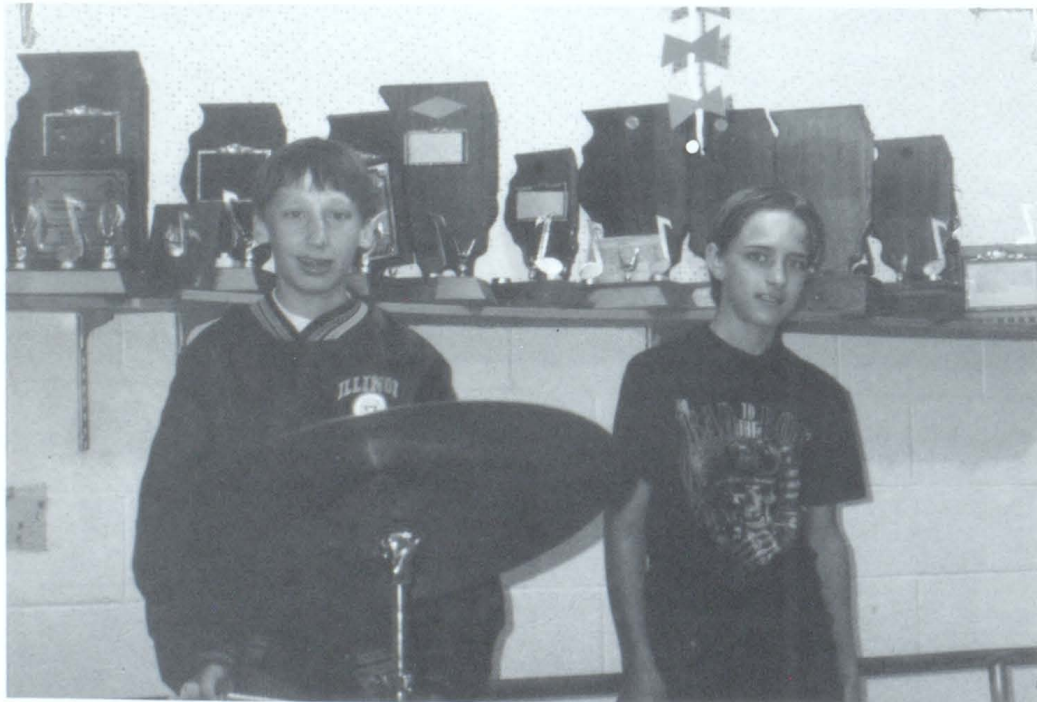

Sophomore Ron Trussell exits the cafeteria.

Freshman Joe Gill doesn't look all that enthusiastic about his English assignment.

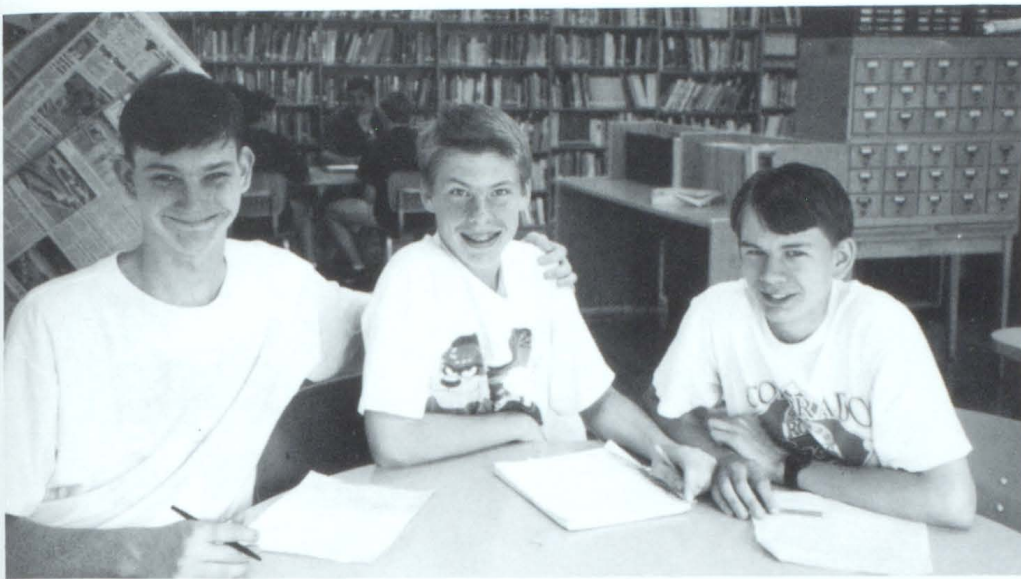

Rob Neathery enjoys a moment of Mrs. Foster's company after her return in May.

Seventh graders J.C. Fultz and Deriek Shride await the cue to start the next selection in band.

Nathan Hauck, Larry Jennings, and Derek Pikop perform a skit on Earth Week Skit Day. They were the only group to do one.

Josh Winnings, Daniel Webner, and Mike Gentry work on their last debate in English II.

Rachael Brumleve, Haley Rowe, and Leslie Patient share a few laughs while working on their English II debate assignment.

Tony Reynolds, Jessy Lillico, Joe Gill, Jarrod Gaither, and Jason Van Loon rest after a hard inning of softball.

Shannon Pham gives his look of confidence after scoring a run for his P.E. softball team. This was the first year for co-ed. P.E.

Trombonist Tyler Allsop takes a minute to look over his sheet of music before the playing begins.

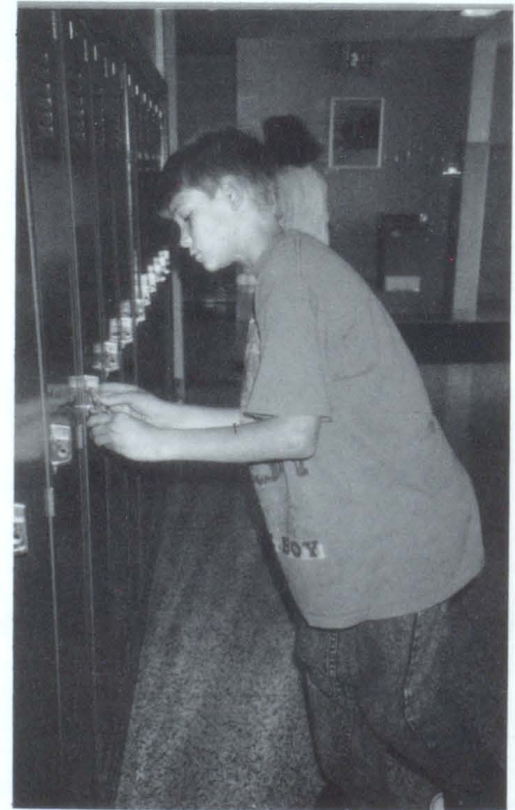

Sophomore Tim Hunt works on a painting of a deer in conjunction with Earth Week. Tim transferred from Macon in April.

Freshman Tim Trussell concentrates on Mrs. Blackford's instructions. Spanish classes organized and participated in National Foreign Language Week.

Cody Baumbarger, Jenny Sowers, Beth Parsons, Joey Logan, Katie Vilmure, and Tina Clark stay in step to a country line dance. This was the first year for dance to be taught in P.E..

Kaleb Turner locks up for the day.

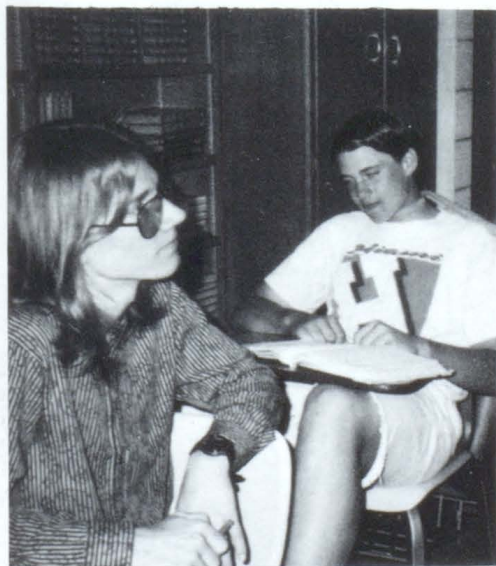

Jennifer Disney stores balloons in the teacher's lounge. The juniors spent Saturday morning setting up for prom at E.I.U.

"The Grim Reaper" (Aaron Calhoun) spent Friday the thirteenth tapping people. After being tapped, one was supposed to be dead. Grim Reaper Day was sponsored by S.A.D.D.

This sign was put up by Raven Freeland for Earth Week. Earth Week, sponsored by the Science Club, included a skit and recycling contest.

Freshman Rick Seeley looks a little under the weather after being tapped by "The Grim Reaper." Deaths took place every 13 minutes to represent how often someone is killed by a drunk driver on prom weekend.

Junior Nicole McCabe works on Aladdin's castle. Nicole was one of the few juniors who worked after school on prom decorations.

This year was an especially busy one for the Yearbook Staffers. There are a lot of changes in the book this year including layouts, theme, and design of the book in general. The year went by very fast; most of us didn't realize how quickly. I hope you, the student body, enjoy the book. I would like to thank Charity, Angie, Brandi, Jamie, Justin, Jonathan, Katie and Kim for all their hard work and dedication. A big thank-you goes out to Mrs. Horsman for all of her hard work and dedication to the Yearbook. Good luck next year and all the years to come.

the injury of too many riders. Though others have devised techniques similar to Dorrance's, True Unity: Willing Communication Between Horse and Human (Pioneer Publishing), a 1987 book he coauthored with Milly Hunt Porter, caused something of a sensation among trainers. Dave Pauli, director of the Northern Rockies office of the Humane Society of the U.S., reports that the new method is catching on fast with horsemen under 40. "We're really happy to see the trend away from dominance training," Pauli says. "The end result is better."

The sentiment is not yet universally shared. "Yeah, my friends tease me," admits Dennis Reis, 35, a trainer from Penngrove, Calif., who used to ride bucking horses on the national rodeo circuit. "They wonder why I'm doing all this touchy-feely stuff." For Reis, who considers Dorrance a "Zen master," the pluses of the method are obvious: fewer broken bones, less trauma for both horse and rider. "The new method changed my life," he says. "But first I had to get a macho-ectomy."

For Dorrance, gentling was a matter of survival, not sensibility. Growing up on a 6,000-acre cattle ranch in Oregon, he and his seven brothers and sisters were taught the traditional riding and roping skills needed to tend their father's herd of 750 Hereford cattle. "I remember being part of the crew, moving cattle, when I was 5," says Dorrance, who never made it through eighth grade. A small, wiry man who stands 5'6" and weighs 150 pounds, he quickly figured out that brute force wouldn't help him on the range. "I couldn't manhandle a horse," he says. "I was often alone and far from home. If he got away, I'd have to walk." So Dorrance learned to see the world from the horse's point of view, anticipating its needs and wants. "It seems like most people working with hors-about "close friendship." Rather, the 5'7" actress shrugs her taut shoulders and says, "It's not a secret and I'm not ashamed of it."

Perhaps Pacino wishes she were into the vestry of the English country church last spring when novelist Joanna Trollope, 49, there to research a newspaper article, walked in on them. "I looked as schoolmistressy as I could," she says,

"and told them, 'I shall be here for hours and hours.'" Abashed, the youths left, and the church's 16th-century silver was saved. Like a character in one of her own novels, she had con-

Trollope, great-great-great-great-store owner in New Orleans, and his mother, Helene, a teacher, encouraged his expeditions to nearby swamps to collect black rat snakes, lizards, turtles and water moccasins.

Plotkin entered the University of Pennsylvania but dropped out after a year when he found the biology courses dry and tedious.

He headed for Cambridge, Mass., where he persuaded the curator at Harvard's distinguished Museum of Comparative Zoology to hire him as an assistant. The position allowed him to take courses, and Plotkin signed up for one given by the renowned ethnobotanist Richard Evans Schultes. In his first lecture, Schultes projected a slide showing three men wearing grass skirts and bark-cloth masks. According to Plot-
